

Top Ten Reasons for Visiting WWU's Election Website Selected Responses of Students, 1998

- Site will select out the key variables influencing the elections and report on how the election results fit with prior elections.
- Site will have reports from students who are having their first experience as voters.
- For in-depth views and analysis of major topics like issues of gender and money. Not some skimmed off the top fluff that you get from most news agencies.
- WWU students, because of our youth, discover new angles and ideas to stories that most adults haven't thought of before.
- Because we are much more interesting than news teams.
- Because this was a great idea for a class and if lots of people spend election night with us, then there will be more assignments like this.
- WHY NOT?! This is a chance to learn and understand what's going on in our state and get informed about the people who represent us. Unlike a lot of reports it WONT be boring because it's coming from the perspective of students who are also learning as they put it together. We're trying to make it as interesting as possible--for you and ourselves.
- You hit the wrong button and ended up there.
- You are our parents.
- WWU students because of our youth, discover new angles and ideas to stories that most adults haven't thought of before.

Printer Friendly Version

© 2000, Center for Instructional Innovation and Assessment