

Project Connect: Helpful Hints for Community Partners

Thank you for joining us in this wonderful adventure called service-learning. We absolutely could not do this project without you, and we greatly appreciate the contributions you will make to our students' learning! The following are some helpful hints to make this experience pleasant and safe for all:

- Give us specific goals and tasks to accomplish – we respond best when we know what you want us to do.
- Let us know what you need! We are here to help you out.
- Share your knowledge and strengths with us. We look forward to learning from you!
- Be ready for us. Have someone waiting to greet us so we feel comfortable. Please inform your front desk assistants that we will be visiting.
- Help us to understand the rules and regulations at your site.
- Please keep us informed of how it's going. Call Angie Harwood, Professor of Secondary Education, Western Washington University at 650-3328 to share concerns, suggestions, or wonderful stories!!
