

Accounting 484: Environmental Accounting

Student Comments

"I loved this class. It was probably the best class I have taken at Western. I took this class for fun...did not need it to graduate...and for the first quarter, I did not miss a single class period."

"I really enjoyed the discussion in the course. The topics we covered are cutting edge and really are the wave of the future."

"I felt that overall this class was very interesting and relevant. The articles we read were very interesting. I feel privileged that I was able to take this class since Western is one of the few campuses around the country that offers it! Overall, it was a great class!"

"The professor did an excellent job of taking a fairly new and developing subject and synthesizing the data/info available into a classroom presentation. Excellent use of a variety of perspectives and various disciplines in reading material/lectures."

"Great class! Literally converted me into being more aware of environmental accounting issues. I look forward to exploring more on this issue..."

"This class was unlike any I have ever taken. The critical thinking and analytical skills used really made me feel more confident. You did a fantastic job as facilitator in classroom discussions. Thank you for creating such an inspiring class!"

"What a wonderful class and what a wonderful surprise. I expected to hate this class, being a redneck and all. You did a great job in conducting class discussion. I especially liked your 'surprising, confusing, disturbing' questions to the articles. It's easier to get into discussion when we can say whatever we want to. I can't imagine any other professor here at Western teaching this class as well as you did."

"I really enjoyed your class. You teach the class the right way...A person comes in expecting to get bombarded with pressure to become an environmentalist, at least I did. I came away though with an entirely different view of environmental accounting and I appreciate the way you handled the class by allowing differing views. That is very important, especially with this topic that touches so many nerves. Make sure that CBE keeps the class and thank you very much!"

"I really didn't want to take this class. I had the impression...that the purpose was to try and turn me into some 'tree hugger.' However, I [was] more than pleasantly surprised by Lockhart's openness and character put into the class. Going in I thought "environmental accounting" was a joke, but coming out I believe that it is important in accounting and definitely not a joke."
